

POLICY 38 – CHEATING

Registrants, who apply to take the examination for reasons other than recertification, will be considered in violation of the CCI Code of Ethics and will be subject to disciplinary procedures. Sanctions may result in revocation of the credential.

Any individual who removes or attempts to remove examination materials including memorizing exam questions or is observed cheating by any manner or means while taking the examination will be subject to disciplinary procedures. Additionally, sanctions may result in the loss of the credential(s).

Any unauthorized individual who is found in possession of exam materials will be subject to disciplinary procedures. Legal action may be pursued against unauthorized individual(s).
